AWS to Be Hosts to Mothers, Present Mother of Year Award

Mothers may be guests of their daughters in the residence halls for a weekend of activities during the annual Mothers' Weekend Friday-Sunday.

The activities, co-ordinated by the Associated Women Students, will begin at 8 p. m. Friday in Lamkin Gymnasium when mothers may be the guests of their daughters at a concert presented by the "Fabulous Amazers."

A brunch consisting of coffee and rolls will be served from 8 to 10 a. m. Saturday in each of the dormitories. Mothers and daughters may tour the campus from 10 a. m. until noon.

A program honoring the mothers will be presented at 2 p. m. Saturday in Horace Mann Auditorium. The program will feature skits and musical entertainment provided by the daughters. Door prizes will be given.

A banquet will be held at 6:30 Saturday night in the Union Ballroom with the Honorable Judge John Yeaman, Weston, as the guest speaker. The annual Mother of the Year award will also be presented as a climax to the weekend's activities.

The recipient of this award is chosen on the basis of her activities and her daughter's involvement in campus activities. Nominations for the award are made by various campus organizations.

This year's nominees and their daughters include:

Mrs. Paul McAvoy and Barbara, Walnut, Iowa; Mrs. John Lott and Melanie, St. Joseph; Mrs. Karl Hofer and Karla, Ferguson; Mrs. Ruth Worms-ley and Emily, Kansas City; Mrs. Dan Jansen and Mary Jo, Independence, Kan.; Mrs. Allen Crowley and Cheryl, Lathrop; Mrs. Francis Wilson and Janet, Lathrop; Mrs. Lloyd H. Norman and Myra, Maitland, and Mrs. Eldon H. Asbell and Mary, Maryville.

To conclude the weekend, mothers and daughters may attend the church of their choice Sunday morning.

Visitors may purchase meals in the cafeteria at the regular rates. Those who bring cars may obtain a parking permit when they register in the residence Hall.

Co-chairmen for this year's activities are Leslie Hunter and Suzanne Whitaker.

Nora Estes Cited by AWS

Miss Nora Estes, AWS "Outstanding Woman of the Year," receives a gift from Cheryl Crowley, retiring AWS president.

Miss Nora Estes, Dearborn, was selected as the AWS "Outstanding Woman of the Year" at the Installation Banquet held March 12 in the Union Ballroom.

Miss Estes was chosen from a field of five candidates nominated by the AWS General Council. The other nominees were Barbara Hardy, Grand City; Margaret Hedges, Des Moines; Leslie Hunter, Grand City, and Vicki Snell, Kansas City.

The girls were nominated for their outstanding contribution to AWS activities during the past year. Besides participating in regular AWS activities Miss Estes was co-chairman of the Bridal Show, worked on the Style Show, and is now assisting with plans for the upcoming Mothers' Weekend. She has also served on various AWS committees which considered such matters as signing in and out and dormitory hours.

Miss Estes, a junior vocational home economics major is also a member of the American Home Economics Association and Gymnastics Club.

Ovaitt Brothers Coming As Den Dance Feature

A Den dance featuring the Ovaitt Brothers will be held at 8 p. m. March 29 in Lamkin Gymnasium.

The three brothers are from the University of Missouri. Admission is 50 cents.

Religious Week Theme: 'Conscience of Time'

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Religious Life Council, is scheduled for March 23-27 and will be centered around the theme, "Conscience of Our Time."

Ken Millsap, chairman of REW and president of RLC, described this year's program as consisting of "a series of speakers who are considering the conscience of our time so far as their work has acquainted them with the people — you and I — who are creating the conscience, or lack of it, in our time."

The opening program will be at 5 p. m., Sunday in the old Den. After a snack supper "The Confronters" from William Jewell College will present a concert.

The following guest speakers have been scheduled to talk at 4 p. m. Monday through Thursday on topics related to this year's theme:

Monday—The Rev. Lawrence W. Bash, Charles Johnson Theater

Tuesday — Sister Anne White, Administration Auditorium

Wednesday — Rabbi John Rosenblatt, Administration Auditorium

Thursday — Mr. Cecil R. Ettinger, Charles Johnson Theater

Throughout the week, these speakers will also be guests in classrooms and at various organizational meetings.

Emphasis will be placed on the religious ideal and not on any one particular religion. No invocations, benedictions, or hymns will be included in the programs as has been customary in the past.

Faculty chairman for this year's REW activities is Dr. Kenneth W. Minter, professor of biology. Committee chairmen are Barbara Woods, Alan Wagner, Ed Witham, John Phoenix, Debbie Roush, and Sue Bowser.

Ralph Schoenman To Offer Views On 'Disobedience'

As a part of their "Controversy" program series, the Union Program Council has scheduled Mr. Ralph Schoenman to speak on "Civil Disobedience" at 4 p. m. tomorrow in the Union Ballroom.

Schoenman served as personal secretary to Bertrand Russell, noted philosopher, mathematician, and pacifist, who was a Nobel prize winner in 1950. He has traveled widely in 62 countries and talked with over 20 state heads including Krushchev, Nasser, Castro, and Ho Chi Minh.

Schoenman and Bertrand Russell founded the "Committee of 100," which has organized mass civil disobedience demonstrations. Schoenman is also the founder and director of the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation.

Because of his activities, Schoenman has been in constant conflict with the United States Government. The early critique of the Warren Report on President Kennedy's assassination was developed by Schoenman, Russell, and Mark Lave.

Working with Stokely Carmichael and Dick Gregory is another part of Schoenman's more recent activities.

'Lysistrata' to Have 4-Day Run

Vicki Jackson, (center) as Lysistrata, explains her plan for keeping Greece's men off the battlefield and in bed to Francie Flannagan, Gail Bullis, and Ruth Duvall in a scene from the upcoming production starting at 8 p. m. in the Fine Arts Building each evening, March 19-22.

National Company to Present Shakespeare's 'Othello' Here

One of the world's greatest tragedies will be recreated by the National Shakespeare Company when Shakespeare's "Othello" is presented at 8 p. m. March 27 in the Administration Building Auditorium.

The tragedy of "Othello," Moor of Venice, is one of Shakespeare's most emotion-packed plays. It describes the destruction of the noble and passionate Othello by the evil Iago. Jealousy and envy are the universal themes explored as are the meaning of love and honor in the five-act drama.

The National Shakespeare Company has engaged Gene Frankel, a prominent New York director, to stage "Othello." Among Mr. Frankel's award winning credits are "The Blacks," "Machinal," "The Umbrella," and "Brecht on Brecht."

Clark Morgan and Don Plumley are featured in the roles of Othello and Iago.

Now in its sixth touring season, the New York based Company has achieved the reputation as the ablest professional Shakespeare Company touring the country. This year's itinerary again encompasses over 100 cities and towns in both the United States and Canada during the eight months on the road.

Tickets are still available in the Union Office.

From Student Leaders:'Open Housing Long Overdue'

It is the opinion of four campus leaders that the present housing bill now under consideration by the administration should be accepted.

The proposed bill extends open housing for students 21 years of age or having senior status.

"Any student that is 21 should not be restricted in any way whatsoever in regard to housing," stated John Price, president of Blue Key and former Union Board president. Price also remarked that he would like to see the day when the building of dorms on campus would come to a halt.

"I would like to see businessmen come into Maryville and build apartments solely for the college students. I feel there are too many petty regulations leveled at students — especially women," he pointed out, citing women's hours for an example.

He added that this bill should hopefully serve as a "spring board" for extending the open housing privilege eventually to include all but first semester freshmen and also for initiating student action on matters meriting their concern and action.

"Students should have presented this bill last year as I believe the administration would have accepted it then. We, as aware students, are content to gripe about any existing situation and pass the buck, blaming the administration instead of presenting to them an alternate proposal."

Cindy Smith, president of Panhellenic Council, states a desire to see open housing passed but expresses concern as to the need of more housing facilities and for more parking area on a campus that is already cramped for space. Miss Smith joins the other leaders interviewed in believing this bill does have a chance of being extended in the future if the present one works out satisfactorily.

"Personally, I am satisfied with dorm life. The only changes that I feel should be made here are longer hours and omission of signing in and out for women," said Miss Smith. She added that these are both under consideration by AWS and the administration.

Fred Beavers, Missourian editor is in agreement with Price and Miss Smith in seeing open housing as largely a problem for women as approved housing for men "hasn't really been enforced."

"There is a growing desire among MSC students to become more independent. If college students can't make it on their own now, they never will; however, I definitely think a thorough study should be made before all these students are 'let loose' to find housing when there may not be any available."

Rick Swartz, IFC president, thinks that "open housing" will be opened only to a limited extent because students over 21 want it, but he believes that many parents want their children to have the protection of the dorms. Swartz thinks that the present bill should be limited.

"Owners of apartments in Maryville would probably be more likely to rent to older students," he said, adding that if the plan is successful it should be opened to other students.

Opinions on open housing are as varied as the people involved in the issue. The proposed open housing bill is to be reviewed by the Board of Regents March 18.

Is Gripping in Order?Greek System Gets Results

Your Student Senate is an undemocratic body with unequal representation of the Greek system. . . . What's so bad about that?

It was brought out in a past Dialogue meeting every 100 Greeks have one representative in the Senate while every 620 independents are represented by one member. This may be true, but I believe there is not that much wrong with the system.

In the first place, if it weren't for the Greeks, many things would never get done on campus. With their basic organizational structure, they have the system to back a candidate and get him elected. This is the way it is in most political systems; the man with the best organization usually wins.

So why do the independents gripe? If they want more representation in the Senate, they will have to elect more people, and the only way to do this is to organize, select and back their candidates.

In many cases, offices held by Greeks are all-school or class offices, and could be held by independents. But, if the independents are not willing to sacrifice a few of their noble principles of self-sufficiency and unite in support of a ticket, these offices probably will continue to be held by Greeks.

The success of this year's Senate can be seen by their accomplishments: abolishment of negative credit, initiation of open housing, possibilities of a pass-fail system, and many other innovations. It should be noted that all of these measures affect the entire student body and not just the Greeks.

Unfortunately, however, from what I've seen, most independents couldn't care less whether they are represented or not. It seems to me that if the independents want better representation, they ought to be willing to work for it. If not, why don't they quit complaining and let the Greeks run the Senate? They're not doing so bad.

'Lysistrata' Offers Universal Message

Considerable talk — not necessarily informed discussion — is occurring as a result of plans for the presentation next week of "Lysistrata" by the Department of Speech and Drama at Northwest State College.

Something about the intent and purpose of the play, its theme, its assets — and liabilities — may help, both in understanding and in deciding whether to see it or not.

Because this classical Greek comedy treats the subject of war and peace, it has something to say to today's audiences, more than any other of Aristophanes' comedies. That is why, in the past 18 months, it has been chosen by colleges and universities for production more often than any other play. It has survived 2,000 years because it presents a universal theme.

Unlike in his other comedies, Aristophanes' comic sense is not presented in "Lysistrata" with biting satire and individualized ridicule. Instead he has taken man's penchant to war against man, and epitomized it in the familiar battle of the sexes. Nation against nation becomes man against woman, and in the process becomes ridiculous beyond reason and reality — it becomes burlesque.

Does the play contain vulgarity? Yes. But it is not pornography, not salacious, not erotic. The ridiculous, exaggerated, burlesque manner of presentation thwarts this. Aristophanes, of course, wrote in a period of complete, uncensored freedom.

For those who would be offended by the vulgarity, implied or actual, the best recourse is not to attend the play. Offense is not intended by the director or the department, and both would prefer empty seats to having any members of the audience feel intimidated or offended by the production.

The above article was taken from a release by MSC's Public Relations Department.

From the Editor's Mail

Dear Editor:

I welcome the opportunity to reply to the letter about textbooks in last week's Missourian. This will enable me to explain to all what I would have explained only to one student had he inquired of me.

It is difficult to get along without a textbook. It is also difficult to have enough texts so that we will not run out. Three factors account for this, I believe. First, we are in a period of increasing student population. Although we get estimates from the faculty of expected enrollment, and buy to meet this need, we sometimes increase faster than we anticipated.

A second factor in the difficulty in predicting enrollment is that we have no way to determine accurately how many students presently taking a class will enroll in a sequential class next semester.

Besides the element of choice, there is also the factor of failing to pass a prerequisite course or even to remain in college. A third factor is that students not enrolled in the course may check out a text for student teaching or for other purposes.

True, enrollment could be limited to the number of textbooks, although factor three will blur that number. I would wonder, however, if it would be better to wait for a text or wait until a later semester to take the course. Practically, this method can be used by a student who does not get a book merely by dropping the course and picking up one for which a text is available.

The policy of purchasing texts would do nothing to alleviate this problem. I have always had to buy my texts and have had many times to wait for additional books, both in institutions which sold texts and in those which relied on private book-stores.

In practice, this method can be used here. Any student who wishes can go to the textbook room a day or two before the beginning of a semester and can resell them for half of what he paid at the close of the semester.

Pre-enrollment is a process whose merits and disadvantages I am not prepared to discuss. However, factors two and three would still operate in a situation with pre-enrollment, with the added factor of transfers from other institutions and last minute to enroll.

We will continue to do the best we can to provide textbooks, and welcome suggestions for improving any part of the library operation.

Sincerely,
—James Johnson,
Librarian

'Amazons' to Play for Concert, Dance

"The Fabulous Amazons, '69, and Their All-Star Revue" will entertain at a Union Board-sponsored concert and dance at 8 p. m. Friday in Lamkin Gymnasium.

The group consists of three lead vocalists backed by a revue of lead guitar, bass guitar, organ, trumpets, and drums. Sometimes compared to the "Four Tops," the Amazons have a new record on the market.

Tickets for the event are 50 cents.

Among The Birches

By John Ford

One Union Board official was pleasantly surprised when listening to the campus radio station as the early morning disc jockey played a recording of an upcoming concert attraction. After the song, however, the DJ apologetically commented he didn't know how "that" song got on the turntable.

I don't believe it, but one bircher said they're considering calling off Walk-Out Day, also, and using it later to combat a summer Viet Cong offensive in Vietnam.

Missourian circulation people, finding a shortage of newspapers for mailing and distribution last week, contemplated a suggestion from an interested observer that possibly a majority of campus readers were doing some early spring cleaning and relining their waste-baskets.

How about the law abiding student that proudly possesses 25, yes 25, campus parking tickets.

"Walking among the birches, I find many topics of interest on our beautiful campus that are difficult to comprehend. Some of these things are housing, new fraternities, student body officials and their selection, to name just a few. I'm a little relieved now that I have only to wait for early May and the '69 Tower with its "Understanding."

Good news or bad: my upcoming student teaching experience that will put to an end this thoughtful (thoughtless) column.

Kindergarteners Tour Garrett-Strong Hall

Kindergarteners from Eugene Field's School toured the vertebra laboratory and geology museum in the Garrett-Strong Science Building March 10.

Mrs. Philip Bram and Mrs. Richard Buckridge, instructors, supervised the 120 fascinated children throughout the field trip.

Dr. Richard Harte, Dr. Bob Mallory, and Mr. Myles Graubau aided the children by serving as guides and explaining the various objects viewed. Assisting the college teachers in answering numerous questions were MSC students Dennis Reichenbacher, David Cross, and Jerry Rains.

Audubon Group to See 'Grand Canyon' Film

A color film, "Grand Canyon," will be a featured part of the Audubon Society meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Garrett - Strong Science Building.

Interested students and faculty members are invited to attend. Membership roles in the organization are always open, Mrs. David Easterla, president, reported.

Nautical Theme Planned for Fashion Show

"Aboard the USS Fashion" will be the theme of the fashion show to be presented at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Horace Mann auditorium by a home economics class taught by Mrs. John Schrier.

Three different phases of fashion will be displayed as members of the class model the new, the old, and the international flavor of design in feminine attire. Specially invited guests at the show will be parents and friends of the sponsoring class (selection and design in clothing and textiles) and all students of the home economics department.

New fashions to be modeled will include sportswear, bathing suits, dresses and ensembles, coats and suits, and a special array of red, white, and blue apparel. The new spring clothing is to be provided by Clara's Fashions, located in the Mary Mart Shopping Center. Shoes will be from Maryville Shoe Store.

Class members have gathered old-fashioned garments from relatives, friends, and local residents for the "old" section of the show.

Fashions from other countries will be on loan from Mrs. J. A. Dreps, wife of the former head of the foreign language department of MSC. Mrs. Dreps has traveled widely and enjoys a hobby of collecting traditional and festival costumes from around the world.

Modeling fashions from other lands will be Vicki Underwood, China; Diane Spetman, Norway; Cheryl Myhra, Mexico; Teri Martin, Yucatan and Tahiti; Caroline Middagh, Japan; Catherine Brothers, Netherlands; Beth Willett, New Zealand, and Marcia Walker, India.

On The Success Line

With MSC Alumni

Mr. William P. Sherman, '51, has been appointed park superintendent for Metropolitan Beach, Mich. He has formerly served as head coach of a championship football team at Roseville High School, Roseville, Mich., as superintendent at the Hamtramck Plant of the Chrysler Corporation, and as a captain in the Marine Corps.

The Lincoln Junior College swim team, coached by P. D. Fields, '68 graduate of MSC, placed sixth nationally in junior college swimming competition held recently in Miami, Fla.

National records in the 100- and 200-yard backstroke events were set by Bill Porritt, Peoria, Ill., for the Lincoln team.

Marjorie Hitchcock, past editor of the Northwest Missourian, is presently employed as assistant editor of The Bowling Proprietor, a national bowling magazine.

Miss Hitchcock is a 1968 graduate of MSC.

Embers Initiates 10 Members In Ceremonies on March 9

Initiation of 10 MSC coeds into Embers was held March 9 at the home of Miss Karen Licklider, dean of women.

New tappees are Phyllis Aebersold, Diane Bergren, Connie Diehl, Jeanie Everett, Barbara Hardy, Cheryl Paulsen, Connie Seuell, Elaine Thompson, Martha Waits, and Barbara Woods.

Miss Aebersold, a junior business education major from Fillmore, is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, Kallay Filleeans, Pi Omega Pi, and Union Board. She has served on the Homecoming committee and as a freshman orientation leader. She was first runner-up in the Best Dressed Coed Contest, a semi-finalist in the Top Ten Coed Contest, and has been a candidate for both Homecoming and Tower queens.

Miss Bergren, Red Oak, Iowa, is a senior majoring in music. She participates in College Chorus, Tower Choir, and Chamber Choir. Recently she was a member of the All-State Choir in St. Louis. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, MENC and is scholastic chairman of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. She has served as a freshman orientation leader and was recently chosen as a finalist in the Top Ten Coed Contest.

Miss Diehl is treasurer of both Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and the Marketing Club and is a member of the Union Board. Chosen Miss Maryville in 1968, she has served as co-chairman of the Homecoming queen committee and as a freshman orientation leader. Miss Diehl is a junior business education major from Red Oak, Iowa.

Miss Everett, Bethany, is a junior majoring in business education. She is a member of Gamma Sigma Sigma sorority and SNEA. A Perrin Hall counselor, she has served on the Homecoming committee, Perrin Hall Dorm Council, and as an AWS representative. She was in charge of Dad's Day and now heads the committee for the selection of the AWS Mother of the Year.

Miss Hardy, a junior home economics major from Grant City, is a member of Kappa Omicron Phi, Pi Delta Epsilon, Union Board, Kallay Filleeans, Religious Emphasis Week committee, and American Home Economics Association. She is copy editor of the Northwest Missourian and the newly-elected president of AWS. She serves on the Senior Key Steering committee and was an attendant to the Tower queen.

A junior from Avoca, Iowa, Miss Paulsen's major is music. She is treasurer of MENC, secretary of Kappa Delta Pi, and alumna secretary of Gamma Sigma Sigma sorority. She participates in Tower Choir, Chamber Choir, and the College Band.

Miss Seuell, Holt, is president of Delta Psi Kappa, scholarship chairman and past vice president of Phi Mu fraternity, secretary of PEM Club, and AWS Senate representative. She has served as Student High School Ambassador leader, chairman of the Hanging of the Greens, and as a member of the Senior Key steering committee. Miss Seuell is a junior physical education major.

Miss Thompson, a junior English major from Kansas City, is corresponding secretary.

College Placement Services Offer Continuing Job Aids

The problem of what to do after graduation is being solved for people every day by the field placement service.

Operating under the direction of Mrs. Esther Sellers, this service attempts to match MSC graduates to jobs in both industry and education. Although of great importance to graduating seniors, the service is available to all Northwest State alumni to be used as many times as it is needed.

To take advantage of this service, the graduate must first register in the Field Service Office on the second floor of the Administration Building. A file is then compiled on each applicant including his grades, credits, achievements, activities, recommendations, and other items of interest to the prospective employer.

During the year representatives from industry and superintendents of schools visit the placement office and are available for interviews with applicants by appointment. These representatives come from many major companies, and the superintendents are from schools of all sizes. With such a variety of opportunities the graduate has an excellent chance of getting the type of job he wants.

Pi Delta Epsilon To Activate Class

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, will have a dinner meeting at the Cardinal Inn at 6 p. m., Thursday for the induction of five new members.

The new members are Mary Asbell, Denise Hammer, Barbara Hardy, John Schieber, and Jan Wilkes.

Fred Beavers, president, is in charge of the preparations for the induction ceremony. Kay Weidenhaft and Peggy Herron are making the dinner arrangements for the event.

The members will approve plans for the spring awards and spring contest in news-writing. Employment brochures will be distributed.

Drama Classes Offered For Summer Session

The Department of Speech and Drama is offering a program of theatre study for the 1969 summer session.

Credit courses to be offered are fundamentals of acting, play production: stagecraft, problems in play production, and problems in theatre. Persons of any age interested in theatre may take these classes.

Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" is the major production to be presented by the enrollees. Shorter comedies of manners or farces will be produced. The director will be Dr. Ralph E. Fulsom, department chairman; technical director will be Mr. Richard Weaver.

Area people may try out for the plays without signing up for the credit courses.

... Professional Outreach ...

Miss Mildred Davis, an instructor in the home economics department, gave the March program for the Mutual Improvement Circle of Maryville.

Miss Barbara Palling, library science instructor, attended a meeting of the Executive Board of Epsilon Beta in St. Louis Saturday. A spring workshop of the association for state high school library assistants was planned at the session.

Dr. Kenneth Minter gave a lecture-demonstration on pollution biology to the advanced biology and chemistry students at Benton High School in St. Joseph March 7.

Dr. Minter also discussed problems of population explosion and its implication upon human ecology March 10 at the Tri Beta meeting.

Mrs. Martha Dunn, assistant professor of speech, presented a lecture-recital entitled "What About the Heroine?" to the XCIX Club March 6 at Trenton.

The recital included readings from Richardson's Pamela, Austen's Pride and Prejudice, Bronte's Jane Eyre, Mitchell's Gone With the Wind, Joyce's Ulysses, and McCarthy's The Group.

Dr. Frank Grispingo and Dr. James Gleason, both from the Department of Education, have been selected to have their biographical data and backgrounds published in an upcoming issue of Who's Who in the Midwest.

Seniors to Present Recital In Charles Johnson Theater

These four music majors will present their senior recitals Sunday and Monday. They are Colleen Whitehill, Dee Ann Decklever, Merle Larson, and seated, Dianne Mannasmith.

Four music majors will present their senior recitals Sunday and Monday at 3 and 8 p. m. respectively at Charles Johnson Theater.

Miss Colleen Whitehill, voice major, and Merle Larson, combined instrument and voice major, with emphasis on trumpet, will perform Sunday. Performances by Mrs. Dee Ann Decklever and Miss Dianne Mannasmith, both voice and piano majors, will be given Monday.

Miss Whitehill's program will include two groups of selections. Group 1 includes "Chi-Vicole Innamorarsi" by Scarlatti; "Il fervido desiderio" anonymous "Heidenroslein," Schubert, and "In Waldesamkeit," Brahms. Group II features "He Took Her Fancy" and "Unto Only Thee" by Waring, "A Birthday," Woodman, and "Fair House of Joy," Quiter.

Miss Whitehill's voice instructor is Mr. Byron Mitchell. Her accompanist is Miss Marcia Leeper.

Larson's recital consists of "Sonata in F Major for B flat Trumpet and Piano," Corelli; "Sonata for B flat Trumpet and

Book Reviewer to Speak To Literature Class

Piano," Tuthill, and "Premier Solo De Concours" by Andrieu.

Accompanist for Larson, a student of Mr. Ward Rounds, will be Miss Kay Vulgamott.

Miss Mannasmith, a piano student of Mrs. Ward Rounds, will present three groups of selections. The first group consists of two Scarlatti numbers; the second group, two numbers from "Children's Corner," and the third group, four of Brahms' Ballads.

Miss Mannasmith also plans to present a voice recital next fall.

Mrs. Decklever's performance will include three groups of selections. One group of three French numbers will include an aria, "Depuis La Jour." She will also perform three early English numbers, and three contemporary numbers, including Gionanne's "Sing to My Heart a Song."

Accompanying her will be Miss Mary Ann Richards. Her instructor is Mr. Gilbert Whitney.

The Stroller believes it was a wise MSC history instructor who said, "You ain't never gonna find no beavers where there ain't no trees."

Although the weather has not yet trumpeted the approach of spring, the season is beginning to show its usual process of conjuring love affairs.

This has been proved by a certain fraternity. Not actively known for becoming "attached" to pretty little coeds, members of this particular fraternity seem to be getting a little free with lavaliers and engagement rings.

Biology can sometimes be a course that inflicts anxiety and extreme emotional distress on its enrollees, especially during dissecting procedures in the laboratory. One tender-hearted freshman girl was tossed into the realms of depression when she thought a frog croaked out "in pain" during dissection.

The Stroller wishes to acknowledge this girl for her loving defense above and beyond the call of "Froggie."

Echoes of exuberant students can still be heard after a two-day vacation from certain classes because the district music contestants were housed in their classrooms while waiting to be called on stage to perform.

The Stroller recently took a student poll and discovered that nine of 10 students hope that the snow will be melted by the time they return to campus after Easter vacation. The 10th pollee has a new pair of ice skates that he wants to use at least once before spring.

One Phillips Hall Vet will never again lose his keys, thanks to two enterprising Franken Hall coeds who recently gave him a handy new key chain complete with safety pin.

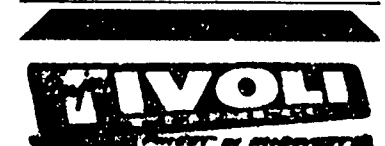

The Stroller wonders how the Sigmas can go "fishing," earn $48, and not go near the pond. Ask any frat man. They recently discovered the answer.

My news sources tell me that Franken Hall is taking in new boarders. Goldfish by the hundreds are being brought in for intensive care and affection. Could the girls possibly be trying to tell somebody something?

In hopes of having an enjoyable weekend, two MSC boys hitch hiked to Iowa. Despite cold weather and a long trip, they had fun — but who wouldn't in Iowa!

Linda Phelps, SDS member and graduate history student at the University of Missouri, opened a women's rights teach-in last week by challenging women to "stop running away from freedom."

The teach-in, titled "Woman: Our Biggest Nigger," was set up to draw parallels between the position of the woman and the position of the Blacks in America. This was the beginning of a final step to abolish regulation of the personal lives of women students on campus.

Stephens College, Columbia, last week sponsored a Black Emphasis Week focusing on the black culture of America.

Donations collected will go towards the establishment of a Martin Luther King Memorial Scholarship fund at the college.

An Afro-American Week was conducted on the campus of the University of Missouri at Kansas City.

Headliners for the week included Muhammad Ali and Don L. Lee.

A new organization entitled the Association of Black Collegians was recently organized at Park College, Parkville.

Organizers of the association stated their purposes as twofold: 1) to challenge racism and to foster black pride and identity and 2) to enrich humanity through presentation of ideas of the black race.

Miss Buster Gets Second in Speech At State Meet

Mary Jo Buster, North Kansas City, led the MSC forensic squad effort by capturing second place in women's oratory Mar. 7, 8 at the Missouri State Forensic Contest, Florissant Valley Community College, St. Louis.

Competing with contestants from 22 Missouri colleges, she also finished fourth in oral interpretation.

Mary Jo Buster

Miss Buster and Melody Parkhurst, Eagleville, debating affirmative, and Susan Hunt, Hale, on the negative side, received an excellent rating with a 4-2 record. Miss Parkhurst was also a finalist in varsity oratory, finishing fourth.

David Dills, Rippey, Iowa, and Elizabeth Watkins, Liberty, won three of six debates to earn excellent certificates in extemporaneous speaking. James Oliver, Guilford, received an excellent certificate for his efforts in varsity extemporaneous speaking.

Linda Sorenson, Des Moines, and Gerry Sisson, Maryville, were rated excellent, and Miss Hunt, good in oral interpretation. James Leu, Creston, Iowa, garnered a good rating in after-dinner speaking, as did Sisson and John Basset, Stewart, Iowa, in men's oratory.

The next forensic outing will be at the Butler County Community College Forensic Tournament at El Dorado, Kan., Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Lee Hageman Named to Council

Mr. Lee Hageman, art instructor, has been appointed to the Missouri Craftsman Council as representative from the Northwest Missouri area.

Mr. Hageman's art work has appeared in numerous shows in the Midwest and in California. He is known for his work in silversmithing and for the creation of jewelry designs.

The Missouri Craftsman's Council, officially chartered by the state of Missouri, is recognized by the American Craftsman's Council and the Missouri Council on the Arts. Its fourth annual traveling show will be in Maryville March 8 through 31 at the Olive DeLuce Fine Arts Building.

The show is sponsored by the Missouri State Council on the Arts.

Entry Deadline Set For 'Miss Maryville'

Entries for the "Miss Maryville Pageant" must be submitted to Bob Cotter, Field Service Office, before noon Friday.

The pageant preliminary will be held at 6:30 p. m. March 25 in the Charles Johnson Theater to select 10 contestants to compete in the finals. Natural appearance, ability to speak before the public, and performance in a three-minute talent segment will determine who is selected.

A dress rehearsal will be held April 9. The finalists will appear at 7:30 p. m. April 10 in the Charles Johnson Theater for the final selection.

There will be an admission charge.

Jan Ellis Chosen Outstanding Coed

Jan Ellis

Jan Ellis, senior social science major, has been chosen as an Embers' outstanding coed because of her past service to the campus through her Student Senate and Panhellenic Council activities.

Her activities in campus affairs include serving as president of Panhellenic, this year; senator, the past two years; and freshman orientation leader. She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority. She believes students need to become more active in their own individual interests.

Mrs. Ellis now works with Mr. Bob Dickey in the Union administrative offices.

National Graphic Show Accepts L. Hall Print

Lon Hall, a junior art student from Maryville, has had a print accepted for the 34th National Graphic Arts and Drawing Exhibition.

Recognized art, drawn from nationwide competition, will be shown at the Wichita Art Association exhibit March 30 through May 9 in Wichita, Kan.

Sears Is Named Blue Key Honoree

Don Sears

Don Sears, junior physical education major from Des Moines, Iowa, has been selected February man of the month by Blue Key, honorary MSC men's organization.

Sears, chosen for his outstanding athletic contributions, is a three-year basketball letterman with one year in baseball. In the 1967-68 MIAA season Sears was leading rebounder and received the Conference Sportsmanship award.

In the current season the 'Cat forward passed a Conference milestone by being the first player to receive the Sportsmanship Award in two consecutive years. The roundballer was also named to the MIAA Second Team this year.

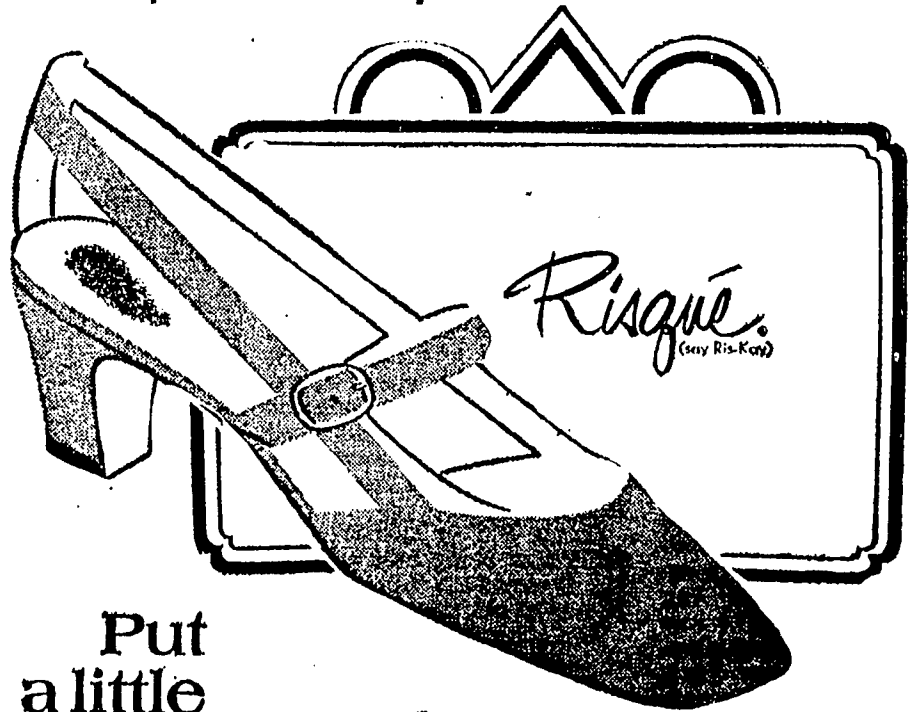

A member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, Sears has held the offices of vice president and house manager. The honoree also holds membership in M Club.

Mules Edge 'Cats for MIAA Swimming Title

Leading their three opponents through a day and a half of swimming, the Northwest Missouri State Bearcats faulted midway through the second day's competition, falling 71½-65, under the wake of Central Missouri State in the MIAA Conference Swim Meet last weekend.

Southwest Missouri State captured third place with 40 points, followed by Southeast Missouri State with nine points. SW and SE played relatively minor roles in the meet claiming one and no first place spots, respectively.

Steve Artale, SW, clipped .6 second off the old 200-yard butterfly record of 2:13.8 to clinch first place. Central's Weaver outdistanced NW's Randy Hansen for first in the 50-yard freestyle with a :23.4 clock. Hansen tied Johnson of CMS for second. Warrensburg also received fourth.

Mark Thomas, MSC, improved by :0.2 the old conference time in the 100-yard backstroke to capture first, clocking 1:01.5. Hersh and Carney, CMS, took first and second, respectively, in the 200-yard freestyle. Both swimmers topped the previous conference record of 1:59.2 — Hersh by :02.8. Bob Sanders of Northwest swam to a fourth.

The Bearcats swept the pool in the 100-yard breaststroke with Craig Puck, followed by Ron Harris, leading the pack. Thomas, Puck, Conner, and Green set a new Northwest Missouri State record in the 400-yard medley relay, clocking a 3:58. They also set the conference pace.

At the end of the first day's competition, MSC was ahead with 26½ points, followed by CMS with 24½ points. SWMS and SEMS held the remaining positions with 21 and 4 points, respectively.

With a clock of 2:14.2, Alvin Green flew to a first place in the IM for NW. Dave Dorn added to the team effort with a fourth place. Central Missouri's Hersh battled to victory in the grueling 1,650-yard event. Clocked at 19:29.0, a break of the previous record, Hersh outdistanced two Bearcats, Sanders and Hennessey, who got second and fourth places.

None of the 'Cats qualified for the 100-yard freestyle race. Won by CMS swimmers: Carney, first, and Weaver, second, the freestyle was the only event in which the Bearcats did not score.

Competing against his brother Bob's previous record holding time, Craig Puck raced to victory, tying the record of 2:28.4, in the 200-yard backstroke.

A virtual four-way tie was the result of the 200-yard breaststroke. Woodford, CMS, 2:18.8; Fehrman, CMS, 2:18.5; Thomas, MSC, 2:18.5, and Dulan, SWS, 2:18.5 were the swimmers. The decision was made by ballot by the judges and Woodford got the honors. Thomas and Dulan tied for second, leaving fourth for Fehrman.

Hersh of CMS triumphed again in the 500-yard freestyle, setting another record by clocking :5:26.2. Aided by teammate Carney, the pair captured first and second in the event to edge ahead of the Bearcats. Bob Sanders got fourth.

Vic Donecny soared to an overwhelming victory in diving. Totalling 396.84 points, he surpassed the old record by 35.84 points. The CMS divers got second and third, retaining their one-point lead on the Bearcats. Following the diving events, the score stood at 61½ for CMS; MSC, 59; SW 36½, and SE, 7.

Then came the crucial finale. Scoring in the final event, the relay, would be 10 points for first, six for second, four for third, and two for fourth. An MSC win would give the meet to the Bearcats.

Central sailed past all contenders in 3:29.3, a record time, with a 3:34 clock; MSC seized second place, followed by SW and SE.

Reflecting on the season, Coach Lewis Dyche said, "They did a great job. They should be very proud of what they've accomplished. It's been the best season we've ever had."

Maiben Reports 'Director' Opening

Qualified students needing a full-time summer job might contact Mr. Dean Maiben, Maryville's city manager, who recently announced an opening for the position of director of the Maryville community pool.

The one hired must hold the Red Cross senior lifesaving certificate or some other comparable water - safety award. Previous experience is not necessary. The job will consist of operating and supervising pool activities from May 31 to Sept. 1.

For further information, students should contact Mr. Maiben at his office in the Maryville city hall.

'Cats Tumble to Fifth In Conference Meet

The MSC track team finished fifth in the MIAA Indoor Track Meet held at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Saturday, with Cape Girardeau taking top honors.

It was the first time in 10 years that Kirksville failed to capture the crown.

Leading the 'Cats were freshmen Dave Hansen and Frank Jorgensen, and sophomore Charles Gilkison. Hansen placed fifth in the high jump, with a mark of 6 feet, 4 inches; Jorgensen took fifth place honors in the 60-yard low hurdles with a clocking of 7.2, and Gilkison set a new MSC indoor track record by running the mile in 4:25 to capture fifth place. He also took fourth place in the two mile with 9:43.6 timing.

Bearcats Poll 3 on MIAA Squad

Three MSC roundballers, Don Sears, Pat Donovan, and Gary Goodson, were selected on the MIAA All - Conference basketball squad in voting last week.

Donovan, a Moberly Juco transfer, was the Bearcats' leading scorer at his forward position, popping the meshes for 299 points, and placed eighth in the conference with a 15.0 average per game. His play earned him a berth on the all-star second team.

Sears, a three-year letterman forward, has made the all-conference second team for the past two seasons, and was voted to receive the 1968-69 Basketball Sportsmanship award for the second straight year. It is the first time in the history of the MIAA Conference that this award, a jeweled wristwatch, has gone to the same player.

Sears finished the season with 291 points, a 13.2 ppg. average; placed eighth in rebounding with 201, a 9.1 average per game, and hit on 37 of 49 free throws, a 75.5 average.

Goodson, hot - shooting guard, received honorable mention in the balloting. He placed second in the conference in free throw percentage, hitting 55 of 66 attempts, an 83.3 percent record, and averaged 12.3 points per game.

Coach Ivan Schottel Appointed to Help Select All-Stars

Head football coach Ivan Schottel has been appointed chairman of the NCAA District VI small college All-American selection committee.

This is the second straight year that Coach Schottel was named to serve on the committee. He was notified of his appointment by Paul Dietzel, president of the American Football Coaches Association and football coach at the University of South Carolina.

Coach Schottel's college coaching record, including his six years at MSC, is 75-65-4. Prior to coaching, he earned All-MIAA honors as a Bearcat and played professional football for the Detroit Lions.

Bearcat Baseball Squad Drills For 30-Game Spring Slate

The Bearcat baseball team has begun spring workouts and will try to improve on last year's 12-9 record and third place finish in the MIAA conference during this year's heavy 30-game schedule.

Coach Burton Richey this week previewed the baseball picture for the coming season, which opens with St. Cloud, Minn., March 27 in Maryville.

The Bearcats have seven returning lettermen including pitcher Scotty Kurtz, who was voted MSC's outstanding player last year; catcher Leon Muff, the team's returning captain; pitcher Don Sears, outfielder Jim Cook, infielders Denny Kurtz, Dave Price, and Joe Spinello.

Coach Richey stated that the pitching and catching are the 'Cats' strongest assets, followed in descending strength by the infield and the outfield.

A total of 60 players turned out for the opening drills and with the first cut-off completed, 35 are left with one cut remaining. Eight to ten freshmen will remain to play the eight scheduled freshman games under the direction of Coach Tony Masters.

Coach Richey said that the drills now being held in Lamkin Gymnasium will probably be moved outside next week.
